COUNCIL ORDERS 'PROTECTIVE' AUDIT!

GARIBALDI HOMEOWNERS VS. APARTMENTS

Rezoning Protest Packs Chamber

The future of vacant lots on Garibaldi and Price streets, subject of a stormy but all-arguments-were-heard two-hour battle Monday night before the City Council, was still an unsettled issue today.

An orderly throng of homeowners in the area, represented ably by Attorney Robert Dell'ergo of Redwood City, Monday night pleaded their opposition to applications for rezoning some 16 lots to R-3 for apartment buildings.

John Putkey, a Daly City attorney, presented the position of Gus Pedemonte, Edith Franzoia and Maria Moresco—the trio who are seeking to have the residential lots rezoned for the construction of apartments.

Dell'ergo's impressive stand reiterated the sentiments aired before the planning commission on August 11 by the 56 homeowners who apparently won't budge in their effort to keep the "predominantly residential" neighborhood east of Mission street free from R-3 zoning.

The planners (a full board wasn't present) approved both the rezoning applications of the three property owners and Pedemonte's request for a variance permit so that he could construct his 13 apartment units up to the property line.

Dell'ergo's clients, many of whom back his lengthy arguments from the audience, maintain that the apartment zoning on Garibaldi and Price is "impractical" due to the fact Garibaldi at its easterly terminus is a dead end street and is only 30 feet in width at present (substandard for sure), that more traffic congestion would result, and that the addition of the apartments would create even more hazards to children and to all residents in the matter of fire dangers and police problems.

Putkey argued that the rezoning for apartments was consistent with Hahn, Wise & Barber survey firm's designation of the questionable area for "special land use," inferring that apartments came in this category. He said Pedemonte's provisions for apartment garages and access would create no additional problems and that he felt all property owners had the right to determine what use their land would be put to.

Dell'ergo's group challenged both the authenticity of maps on Pedemonte's development presented before the planning commission and the extent of the commission's "attention" to the matter.

Mayor Edward Dennis, who gave both the attorneys and citizens ample time to express their points, suggested, and received the support of Putkey, that Pedemonte submit more detailed plans of his proposed apartments including proposals for the widening of narrow Garibaldi street and the possibility of connecting Garibaldi to Price street via a 30-foot wide street which would front at the eastern end of Pedemonte's porperty.

Dennis says once these plans are presented by Pedemonte, he would call in representatives of the protesting homeowners, the city engineer, and the full council for a special meeting, probably next Wednesday night, September 23, to "see if both sides are agreeable to a compromise."

The mayor added, however, that he and the council "have made no decision as yet" on the rezoning and variance applications.

It was brought out at the jammed session Monday night that more than two years ago the city manager recommended an assessment district to extend Garibaldi to Hillside boulevard and Price street, but homeowners in the area refused to support the proposal.

Since then, two new homes have been built on Hillside—above the Garibaldi dead end. Thus if traffic conditions are to be improved should apartments be granted, the only route would be from Garibaldi south to Price. Who would pay for this link is another factor to be resolved.

Fire Chief Elmer Kennedy, asked by Putkey if fire hazards would be increased by apartments, stated that it was not his belief that this would be the case.

Westmoor High Bank Slipping!

Jefferson High School District trustees have adopted a "sit tight" policy as to what is to be done about the slippage of a portion of the bank east of the parking lot at Westmoor.

Soils Engineer Charles Lee said the cause is within the earth itself. A soft clay or peat deposit underground causes the earth at this point to act as "a greased pig on a slide."

Lee warned that it would not be an economical job to correct the situation. A similar project by a firm cost $37,000 at a Sausalito site, he said.

He proposed to outline the area of clay or peat and drill 10 holes to get 60 samples. The supervision of drilling is an important factor but would be an additional cost. Not including plans and specifications of the complete drilling contract the cost would be $6000.

Superintendent Ed Morgan said he told Michael Callan, who owns the adjoining land,

KINDERGARTEN CROP NUMBERS 1070 TO DATE

Kindergarten children numbering 1070 started Jefferson Elementary School District classes Monday, almost doubling the 591 eighth graders, according to Director of Instruction Dr. Vinton Stratton.

"There is a steady growth due to the housing developments of Daly City," Stratton said. He listed the total as follows: Eighth grade, 591; seventh grade, 629; sixth grade, 720; fifth grade, 746; fourth grade, 721; third grade, 809; second grade, 890; first grade, 925; and kindergarten, a whopping 1070. There are 38 special students.

"Our estimated total of students was 7200, and with a long forseen projection we almost hit the nail on the head as 7139 attended classes the first day," Dr. Stratton noted.

"With persons still returning from vacations we could come mighty close to our prediction," he added.

Dr. Stratton said total daily attendance may reach as high as the 7500 mark by the end of the year.

Police Register 585 Bikes Here

Sergeant Henry Sundermann of the Daly City police department reports that 585 bicycles have been registered to date and he is pleased with the turnout.

"It is a big job, but persons losing bicycles and the police department will be better off in the future," he said.

Sundermann was especially pleased with the turnout in Westlake where 400 registrants appeared in two days last week. He is currently contacting school officials to expedite the bicycle registration procedure.

He reminded that bicycles may be registered at the city hall, 75 Wellington avenue, on Saturdays from 9 a.m. until 2:30 p.m.

Venturi's Wife Missing Ring

Ken Venturi, listed as the favorite at the Golden Gate Golf Championship, now has good reason to win.

He reported to police this week that his wife's $300 14-karat diamond ring was missing. Venturi said that his wife, Constance, placed the ring on the bedroom dresser Monday and when she went to pick it up Tuesday it was gone.

The ring was missing from the Venturi's former address, 97 Forest Grove drive, Westlake, although they have since moved to 2424 Oakdale avenue, Hillsdale. The pro golfer said a thorough search was made during the moving process but the ring could not be found.

Officer Jim Welsh said there was no evidence of a break-in nor was any other jewelry in the same location taken.

East Moltke Area Good For 'Fishing' (The Wrong Kind)

The "fisherman" is at work again.

A case similar to the one at 115 East Moltke street (where fishing gear was stored and stolen) occurred to Robert Yonan, 22-year-old salesman of 131 East Moltke street, apartment 2, sometime between August 29 and September 12.

The cases are alike in that in both instances the thief entered through an open basement door, pried a padlock off a locker door and took fishing gear.

Yonan said he was on vacation or at work when the articles were taken. He placed value on the four fishing rods and tackle box at $97.90.

Council To Weigh All Protests

LAND-USE HEARING MONDAY LAST CHANCE FOR PUBLIC

City Engineer Otis Calhoun today said the city council will hold final public hearings on the Land-Use plan next Monday at an 8 p.m. meeting in the city council chambers, 75 Wellington avenue.

If the Land-Use plan is adopted or the hearing is closed Monday's hearing will be the last chance for the public to voice an opinion, he noted.

The council has had one previous Land-Use hearing, while the planning commission met twice before approving and submitting the plan to the council.

Considering the attendance at the last stormy Land-Use plan hearing, Calhoun expects many local landowners and developers again to be present at the meeting.

Interested parties include representatives of Henry Doelger, George McKeon of Zita Corporation, John Putkey, representing property owners, realtor William Lagomarsino, and builder Thomas Callan Jr.

Calhoun reminded that the planning commission will hold its second meeting of the Master Zoning Ordinance on October 13.

WILD RAMPAGE BY EX-HUBBY ENDS IN JAIL

A former husband went on the rampage last Wednesday night, beating his ex-wife, kicking in her television set and breaking various articles around the woman's home in Westlake, according to the police report.

When Officer Tom Culley arrived at the residence of Olga Ericksen, 1261 South Mayfair avenue, he found her in a hysterical condition, bleeding from the nose and mouth. The screen of the TV set had been smashed, a ceramic article had been smashed on the floor, and a small brass coffee pot had a large dent in it.

The woman said she had been sitting at home watching television when the doorbell rang. When she went to the window to see who it was her former husband burst through the door, shouting threats at her, she said.

She had returned and was sitting watching the television and stood up when he entered. She said he struck her in the face and then kicked the TV screen. When he started breaking things she ran outside, asking a cab driver for help.

He refused to aid her. She stopped two young men in a passing car and by the time the three of them re-entered the house, unemployed Marshall Charles Erickson, Leland Hotel, Bush street, San Francisco, had gotten into the cab and fled.

Culley notified San Francisco police and the Luxor Cab company. While on Bayshore freeway, Erickson overheard the Police Lieutenant Appointment Soon?

Police Chief Roland Petrocchi today said his appointment of a new lieutenant has been delayed for more screening of the candidates.

The four sergeants considered for the one post are David Hansen, 33; Jack Walsh, 41; Bruno Conci, 42, and Henry Sundermann, 45. They finished in the above order on the lieutenant examination.

3059 Hi School Students Here

Westmoor High School bulged at the seams for opening day classes as 246 more students than expected attended classes.

Superintendent Ed Morgan said the Jefferson Union High School District's projection for Jefferson couldn't have been much closer. Missing by only three students, 1301 attended classes the first day. Registration at Jefferson totalled 1416.

Morgan, however, was particularly interested in Westmoor. He gave the total of first day students as 1758, but 141 holding registration cards did not show up. Therefore, the over-all total of 1899 who may be attending in the future is 246 more than anticipated.

Helping to push the figures higher was the fact that 75 San Francisco junior high graduates registered for the sophomore year at Westmoor.

Morgan noted that the total 3059 attending in the district was an increase of 511 in the district's two high schools.

The registration of 3315 was 461 more than last year.

"Glenn South, principal of Westmoor, has so many students that in some classes boys and girls are standing. During the first day we could probably

'Harmony' Meet On Hospital Will Be Held Here Tuesday

Last Thursday's joint hospital meeting was called off by the sponsoring Physicians Committee because all representatives of the Daly City, Pacifica and South San Francisco councils couldn't make it.

The meeting has been rescheduled by chairman Dr. Sanford Marcus of Westlake to next Tuesday night, September 22, 8 p.m., at Colma Intermediate School library, Hillside and Market streets here.

Marcus and the physicians' group have asked for the meeting to establish a "meeting of the minds" among the groups which, to date, have been working independently for an adequate north county hospital.

Councilman Leo Ryan heads the South San Francisco group and Councilman Bob St. Clair is the Daly City council's hospital drive chairman. Pacifica Mayor Jean Fassler has delegated Councilman Donald Miller of Vallemar to represent the Coastside city at the "harmony" session next week.

On motion of St. Clair, Daly City councilmen have sent a resolution to county supervisors, asking that body to appoint a single north county hospital committee. St. Clair feels each city council should name one delegate and that the unincorporated areas also should be represented on this central study committee.

Marcus' group, comprised of at least 50 doctors, has discussed several possible sites for the hospital. Ryan's group is working for an election and boundary changes to establish a north county hospital district, while the Daly City council prefers to have all three groups get together so that results on the hospital would be more prompt.

WOMAN INVOLVED?

Episode of Thievery Ends, Two Arrested

A phone call by Josephine Hettel, 17 Bismark street, netted Daly City police two thieves and a possible accomplice last Saturday at 1:15 a.m.

The woman phoned to notify police of prowlers at Neville Motors new car storage lot, an open area, next to 6955 Mission street.

Officer Ralph Warren and Sergeant Jerry Galindo responded and found the two men removing a tire. When the duo saw police they climbed over a five feet cyclone fence. They ran south on Mission street along the 7000 block and did a repeat "cyclone" performance.

They dropped over by the Do-Drop Inn and Gene Lockhart's Muffler Shop. Galindo fired a warning shot while Warren radioed for assistance,

CITY AUDITOR IS QUERIED

FULL-SCALE PROBE OF BUDGET SHOULD DETAIL 'DISCREPANCIES'

Who's to blame and what are the extent of the alleged discrepancies in Daly City's fiscal budget?

These questions should be resolved after a general audit of the city's financial books is completed—a recommendation made by Acting City Manager Paul Hupf to the city council last Thursday night in study session. The council Monday evening before a packed house confirmed that the full audit will be authorized.

Hupf earlier last week shook up the council and residents with a report that there was evidence of "sheer carelessness" in the handling of sity funds, more money was spent last fiscal year than was budgeted, approximately 11 unauthorized employees were put on the payroll although they were not provided for in the current budget, and that, in general, the city council, for the most part, had not been apprised of these conditions by those responsible for reporting them if they existed.

City Auditor Bob Hunter, who said he believes a general audit, as suggested by Hupf, will show that things are in order, told the full council Thursday night that he would prepare his regular report on the budget to analyze the charged "discrepancies."

Hunter, strongly taken to task by Councilmen Joseph Verducci and Bob St. Clair, "for not informing us" of the budget inbalance, explained that his quarterly report, due next month, would show the exact status of procedures that have been challenged by Hupf.

Verducci last Thursday said any discrepancies in the budget were the immediate responsibility of the city manager (George Watts) and the city auditor.

He charged that Hunter should have reported to the council if the latter were aware that certain purchases were made despite the fact that there was no money available for these transactions.

St. Clair asked Hunter why he (the city auditor) failed to bring these budget conditions to the attention of the council.

Hunter replied that he thought it was the city manager's responsibility since he (the city manager) had approved several fund requests apparently knowing that the money was not immediately available.

Verducci reminded Hunter that the city auditor had failed to report in person when submitting his quarterly audits to the council on the budget. The councilman said each councilman should be fully informed by the auditor periodically on the exact financial status of the city.

Hupf's statement of the non-balanced 1958-59 city budget showed (and was verified by City Finance Director Joseph Arch) that total expenditures amounted to $2,032,066 but that revenues were only $1,834,408. This leaves an "unexplained" difference of $197,658—money spent that wasn't set aside in the supposedly balanced budget.

Arch said he wasn't able to report on this $197,658 difference until a complete check was made of all revenues, disbursements, transfers and adjustments. Hupf's figures, Arch noted, were preliminary, but significant just the same.

Verducci, not satisfied with

Building Still At Fast Pace

New construction in Daly City during August maintained a booming pace as work began on structures valued at $3,194,976.

Public Works Department Director Otis Calhoun reports that 237 building permits were issued.

The permits were for 203 new homes, 28 alterations to homes, one commercial building, the new south Westlake fire station, and four permits for signs.

Daly City's one-month record for new construction was last May when permits were issued on $5,609,000 in construction. In July the figure was $3,292,935.

Two City Officials Had Good Reasons For Being Absent

Two members of Daly City's official family were absent from Monday night's city council meeting.

Acting City Manager Paul Hupf was taken ill with an attack of flu. Councilman Joseph Verducci was at bedside for an emergency appendectomy performed on his daughter, Diane, 18, recent graduate of Westmoor High.

City Clerk Evelyn Mosman and Public Works Director Otis Calhoun attended the four-hour council session on weak limbs. Both were stricken with flu a week ago.

Falls Backwards Down The Stairs, But She's Unhurt

Mrs. Alice Christian fell down a flight of stairs at her home, 250 Acton street, and after being taken to Junipero Serra Hospital by M&D Ambulance was released luckily in fair condition despite the tumble.

Viola Anglin, 44, 905 Capp street, Apartment 6, San Francisco, said that and Mrs. Christian had been drinking at a Daly City bar and she brought the latter woman home. When Mrs. Christian reached the top of the stairs she fell backwards.

Her brother, Thomas Quinn, 43, called policeman Robert Stables.

Building Code Is Amended To Plug 'Loophole'

First reading was held by the council Monday night on an amendment to the city building code. The new provision, according to acting City Manager Paul Hupf, allows owners of 25-foot lots to build outside walls with less than one-hour fire resistant material providing that the interior walls meet this requirement.

In the past many builders here have violated this desired policy because no such provision was listed in the existing building code.

Who'll Succeed Chief Belloni In South City?

South San Francisco's city council will meet in regular session next Monday night at 8 o'clock, City Manager Eugene Aiello reminded residents today. Site is the city hall on Grand avenue.

Appointment of a new police chief to succeed 64-year-old Louis Belloni, on the job with the South San Francisco department for 34 years, hinges on the outcome of an exam taken by four SSF police veterans. Kroeger and Associates, who conducted the chief's exam, are checking results of the August 29 test.

In the running for the chief's job are Captain August Terragno, Sgts. Ernest Cortez and Bernard Esparza, and Inspector John Fabbri.

Belloni reaches the compulsory retirement age of 65 next April, but he may resign before then.

For the information of new arrivals to the north county area, South San Francisco's city council is chairmanned by Mayor Andrew Rocca. Councilmen are Patrick Ahern, Guido Rozzi, Leo Ryan and Emilio Cortesi.

Roof Vandalized At Olympia School

John Spry, custodian at Daly City's Olympia School, Northgate and Westmont avenues, told police Friday that $40 damage had been done to the roofing of the main building.

Spry, 107 Buxton avenue, South San Francisco, told Officer Jim Bergstrom that a neighbor had observed juveniles playing on the roof Thursday at 7:30 p.m.

Officers Culley and Robert Sims had him released to their custody.

The former Mrs. Erickson said he had called numerous times earlier on the telephone and she didn't want to see him because he sounded as if he had been drinking.

Erickson, 47, was charged with assault, battery and malicious mischief. He plead not guilty last Thursday and a jury trial was set for September 30. Bail was $500 cash or $1000 bond and he was remanded to the custody of the sheriff.

IT ALWAYS PAYS TO ADVERTISE!

Don Davison, busy advertising salesman for Marchbanks Publications, stopped the presses this week.

His wife, Mona Gail, also a former San Jose State College student, presented him with a front page edition — seven pounds and 11 ounces.

Their first arrival arrived Tuesday evening at Marin General Hospital. She'll be known as Kathleen.

Daly City Observes 'Constitution Week'

This Thursday, September 17, is the 172nd anniversary of the adoption of the Constitution of the United States.

In keeping with national practice, Mayor Edward Dennis of Daly City today issued a proclamation proclaiming the period from September 17-23 as "Constitution Week" here.

Dennis urged all citizens to "take time out to remember the significance of the American Constitution."

SECRETARY HURT IN REAR-END CAR ACCIDENT HERE

Lorraine A. Miles, 27, 116 La Crosse avenue, South San Francisco, complained of severe neck pain after her car was jolted at the Knowles avenue and Junipero Serra boulevard intersection Tuesday afternoon.

The secretary-bookkeeper for the Blue Fox Restaurant in San Francisco was taken by M&D Ambulance to Junipero Serra Hospital.

Edwin Rieggei, 60, 111 Pine street, San Francisco, said, "The other car stopped and then started and stopped again. I hit the car in the rear." Minor damage was done to both cars. The self-employed public accountant was not cited.

The names of the subsidiary chairmen are: Booths, Evert Mason; Tickets and Prizes, Albert Matchette; Food, Mrs. Arthur Hermosillo; Bazaar, Mrs. Felix Moss; Christmas Booth, Mrs. Donald Iwahashi; and Publicity, Mrs. W. R. Clark.

A prize will be given to the classroom with the largest percentage of parents joining the PTA. Even parents of pre-school age children are encouraged to join and attend the meetings—baby-sitters will be in attendance at each meeting.

Two-Hour Parking Limit On Irvington

Two-hour parking limits on Irvington street, from Templeton to Evergreen, was authorized by the city council Monday night after homeowners in the area had their request studied and the move recommended by Police Chief Roland Petrocchi. There were no parking limits there earlier.

DOELGER REQUEST TO BE WEIGHED BY SCHOOL BOARD

Jefferson Elementary District trustees will discuss the granting of permission to the Doelger Building Corporation to store dirt on the east end of the playfield of Ben Franklin School at Monday's meeting.

A study session will be held this Thursday night.

Both meetings are at 8 p.m. at the district offices, 48 Park Plaza drive, Westlake.

Tile Stolen From New Palmcrest Home

Barney Tambor, owner of the Floorcraft Company, 760 2nd street, San Francisco, told Westlake Special Officer Henry Gross this week that 14 boxes of asbestos tile had been stolen from a house under construction at 301 Palmcrest drive.

The boxes of tile were taken between September 4 and 8. Tambor, 750 Gonzales drive, San Francisco, related that the boxes of tile were valued at $6.75. The total value taken was $94.50. Officer David Johnstone investigated for the city police department.

have used four more teachers as the classes were not of working size," Morgan said.

Totals given by Morgan for each class at Westmoor are as follows: Freshmen, 544; Sophomores, 486; Juniors, 395; Seniors, 331.

"The number of students may dwindle down this year, but the school board of trustees will be struggling with problems of what to do in 1960 and 1961 because of the number of students surpassing our projected enrollment," he added.

"The board will need a better analysis in the future in order to take care of all the students who will be attending the districts high schools," he commented.

Morgan noted that there is new furniture in San Francisco awaiting the district but is was tied up in the strike and no one even knows where it is. However, he is not too concerned with finding seats for the standing students as he states, "That is not too much of a concern as it is easy to pick up used furniture to accommodate extra students."

Just as a modern army would deploy supplies and transportation the high school district is trying to give the best service to its army of students. On opening day, 141 students who registered thought school buses had left them behind and went home although the drivers had returned to the Pacifica area.

All school buses are being used on the Coastside. Greyhound buses are used in other areas.

Principal South noted that one half the students are new at Westmoor while one third the teachers are starting this year there.

Morgan said there are 258 certificated (teaching) personnel and 74 classified employes.

Westmoor High Bank Slipping

"The district would pay any part of damage to our land but we are on record as to the banks and that until legal aspects are settled we would not spend any money."

Letters to both Callan and the Zita Corporation early this year stated that installation of drainage pipe should be put in by Callan, according to the district-hired Tronoff Company. A letter from enginer Ted Tronoff to both builders read, "This contractor expects you to maintain lateral support. If the gutter should collapse this district would hold you liable."

Morgan said, "Both companies (Callan and Zita) were bound by court order. I also found out that Callan has never accepted the grading of the property by the Zita Corporation."

As a safeguard, however, the board approved an increase from $25,000 to $100,000 property damage liability. The additional insurance will cost the district $53 but would give more adequate protection to JUHSD from damage to others.

Morgan noted that in the space of a year the property damage liability coverage has increased from $10,000 to $100,000.

TRUSTEES SELL PACIFICA HOUSE FOR 10 DOLLARS

High school trustees have sold the last piece of property to complete the Oceana High School site, the Gallagher House, to J. Wooten, 8 Santa Maria, Sharp Park, who submitted the only sealed bid last Monday night.

No oral bids came from the audience. The house was sold for $10!

In other business the board hired Alfonso A. Ortiz as a custodian at Westmoor High School at a salary of $357 per month. Ortiz, 37, lives at 576 Pennsylvania avenue, San Francisco.

Faculty-trustee curriculum study sessions were approved for the following dates: Business Education, October 19; Social Studies, December 7; Point One Program, February 15; and Fine Arts, April 25.

Woman, 90, Dies At Morningside Drive Residence

A 90-year-old woman succumbed at her home, 191 Morningside drive, Tuesday at 1 p.m.

Winona F. Ash was given oxygen by M&D Ambulance drivers at her home until a physician sent by the family doctor arrived. The doctor said the woman had suffered a cornoary thrombosis and there was no need to take her to the hospital.

The San Mateo County Coronor's Office was notified. Police Officers Jim Doran and David Johnstone responded to a call from the woman's daughter, Mrs. Flora O. McCrary.

Episode Of Thievery Ends

Officers Steve Steen and Robert Stables coming to their assistance.

Residents at 17 Bismark street said they saw the men enter a basement next door. Arrested, without resistance, were Ray Faulkner, 19, 3350 16th street, San Francisco and Gary Wayne Riley, 16, Salida, California, a student at Modesto Union High.

The unemployed Faulkner's bail was set at $550 by Judge Charles Becker, while his cousin, Riley, was taken to Hillcrest Juvenile Detention Home.

During the chase Galindo saw a car drive away without its headlights on from Bismark and Mission streets. He stopped the car after the men were apprehended. The driver was Ruth Eagle, 54, who gave the same address as Faulkner.

Under questioning, Faulkner told police that the woman was an accomplice who recommended the theft because he needed money to pay for car repairs and traffic violations.

She told police this "was "foolish" as she earns $149 per week. She said the boys left the vehicle, her car, to phone Faulkner's father to help them repair the carburetor of the 1959 model car. She said she came upon the car at that time.

Ruth Eagle said she owned the tools that were found at the car lot but couldn't imagine how the tools got out of her car. She told police she couldn't start her car and started driving without lights. Galindo, however, said she was driving up-hill. She also told police she watched a late movie on TV but couldn't remember the name.

She was released pending action by the District Attorney and juvenile authorities.

BB 'Marksman' Shatters 21 Windshields

The BB gun is getting weaker but the marksman is still popping away at windshields of cars located in lots along Mission street.

Between 10 p.m. Friday and 9 a.m. Saturday $1000 damage was done to 21 windshields at Al Jones Used Car lot, 7300 Mission street, and Columbus Motors, 7276 Mission street.

Owner Jones reported that six windshields valued at $400 had been broken, but some were not bad enough to have repaired. Columbus manager James Ollinger told Officer John Coleman that 15 windows valued at $600 had been shattered, but again some were not badly damaged.

At his last "target practice" about a month back, the young marksman had done more than $4000 damage to car windows in local lots.

General Audit Is Ordered By DC Council

Hunter's explanation, asked outside auditors Leonard Bullis and Charles Ethel (hired by the council to make a review of the books after the firing of George Watts) for a verbal report on what they had found in checking the books.

Bullis confirmed that no full audit had been made, but that in their brief survey of the books he and Ethel found that on numerous occasions, where no funds were available, the city manager had approved requests for expenditure of city monies.

Verducci then wondered out loud why the city auditor was unaware of these alleged discrepancies.

Hunter answered that his regular report to the council would explain the use of funds and agreed that a general audit was a sound idea.

As for the hiring of 11 unauthorized employees, as charged by Hupf last week, the council Monday night said it was anxious to hear Hupf's report on whom these employees are and who put them to work.

Hupf said the 11 "extra" personnel, assigned to city jobs although money was not budgeted for their employment, had collected a total of $7300 since the fiscal year began in July. If continued on the payroll through next July, these salaries would total $45,000.

Hupf has ordered, with council approval, that these employees be released. In fact, their jobs were terminated Tuesday this week.

Illness found Hupf absent from Monday's regular council session. His report on the 11 "non-budgeted" employees and recommendation of auditors for the general audit, are expected at the September 24 (Thursday night) adjourned meeting of the council.

The council at the same time expects a first report from the State Personnel Board on its progress in screening and determining candidates for a new city manager here.

Personal Touch To High School Board Meeting

Jefferson High School District trustees heard good and bad news about personnel employed by them at Monday night's meeting.

Superintendent Ed Morgan said that Alfred Borelli, Westmoor High gardener who was seriously injured on July 16 is making good progress but will be confined to St. Mary's Hospital for at least eight more weeks.

Naomi Murphy, long time district bookkeeper, died early this month at Kaiser Hospital. She entered the hospital February 4 and, excepting for a brief period, was hospitalized until her death. She started work in the Jefferson district in January of 1951.

The board and administration sent a floral remembrance and a contribution to the San Mateo County Mental Health Asociation Memorial Library Fund in her honor.

23-Diamond Watch Reported Missing

Mollie G. Timbrook, 157 Brooklawn avenue, Westlake, reported to police that a 23-diamond watch valued t $900 had been taken from her dresser drawer between August 24 and 28.

Mrs. Timbrook suspected a baby sitter. Upon further investigation the baby sitter, recommended by the Bay Area Baby Sitters, No. 5 Village Lane, Colma, was screened and found to be reputable during her two-year employment. Because other valuable jewelry was left untouched, police said the Brooklawn woman may have misplaced the watch.

THE USUAL PROBLEM AT JEFF

School has resumed and it's the same old story front of Jefferson High School.

There's still no traffic control at the crosswalk front of the education plant, the students are trolling" back and forth, and commuting motorists are again hot under the collar.

Student safety and cooperation are vital considerations. The same goes for drivers who use the street regularly during the rush hours and try to be patient with the antics of the 'don't hit me' pupils.

Long dated efforts to get some local and state traffic control in front of the high school have failed to materialize in quick results.

City and school authorities again should contract their attempts to correct the situation—before student fatality convinces the highway brass that some devices are needed.

The state has agreed to install signals near the high school as a safety measure. But "when" state funds are released is the question.

Veterans Administration Gives Full Explanation Of Pension Benefits

Here's the new pension picture in a nutshell!

First, it has nothing to do with service-connected compensation. It concerns nonservice-connected pensions only.

Second, it does not go into effect until July 1, 1960.

Veterans, widows and orphans now on the pension rolls, and coming on the rolls before that date, will be allowed to choose the present system or the new pension plan—whichever they prefer. VA will help them make that choice by sending them a form to be filled out. They will receive this form automatically; writing to VA will not speed things up.

If you are a veteran, the requirements haven't changed. You must still have 90 days of wartime service, a discharge other than dishonorable, and be totally and permanently disabled for reasons not related to service.

But the amount of pension will be based on your financial need.

Under the present system, an annual income limitation was set at $1400 for single veterans and $2700 for veterans with wife or more dependents. But the amount of pension remains the same for each class . . . $90.15 per month until the veteran reaches 65 years of age or has been on the pension rolls 10 years. Then it jumps to $95.75 per month.

Under the new law effective July 1, a payment of $85 per month will go to a veteran without dependents if his annual income does not exceed $1400. This payment drops to $70 per month if his annual income is between $600 and $1200. It drops further to $40 per month if the single veterans whose income lies between $1200 and $1800 and ceases entirely over $1800.

Veterans with one dependent are similarly scaled: one dependent $90 per month with income not over $1000; $75 with income between $1000 and $1400, and a lowest payment of $45 per month with income between $2000 and $3000.

Veterans with two dependents will receive $95 per month and those with three or more dependents will receive $100 per month if their incomes are under $1000 a year but over $1000 the payments are the same as for the veteran with one dependent.

The present law provides total payment monthly of $135.45 for those helpless veterans requiring regular aid and attendance when they are not in a Veterans hospital or domiciliary. The new law will add $70 a month to their basic pension payment for aid and attendance under the same circumstances.

If you are a widow, the basic requirements for pension eligibility will be changed as of July 1, 1960. The present law requires that widows of World War II and Korean conflict veterans must submit evidence that the veteran had a service-connected disability. After July 1, 1960, the widows merely have to submit proof that the veteran was in active war service for 90 days or more and that he was discharged under other than dishonorable conditions.

World War I widows have always had only this simple active duty requirement.

Briefly, a childless widow on the present pension rolls receives $50.40 per month if her income is not over $1400. With a minor child, or children, her income may be as much as $2700 per year. The widow with one child receives $63 and there is $7.56 provided for each additional child.

Coming on the rolls after July 1, 1960, a childless widow will receive $60 per month if her annual income is not more than $600; $45 per month with an anunal income between $600 and $1200; and $25 a month with an annual income between $1200 and $1800.

A widow with one child, under the new law, will receive $75 a month if her annual income is not more than $1000; $60 per month with an annual income of between $1000 and $2000, and $40 a month if her annual income is between $2000 and $3000. An extra $15 a month is paid in all instances for each additional child.

If you are an orphan, the present income limitation is $1400 per year and pensions amount to $27.30 a month for one orphan, $40.95 for two; $54.60 a month for three and an extra $7.56 for each additional orphan.

Under the new pension plan, orphans will be eligible for pensions if their outside income is not more than $1800 a year, not counting their own earnings. Pensions will be $35 per month for one orphan and an extra $15 per month for each additional orphan.

Stressing these highlights, VA officials point out that the working details have been omitted for the sake of brevity.

VA has requested that no one write to the agency to further add to the workload of putting the new system into operation. All those now on the rolls will be notified by VA and all new cases applying or coming on the rolls will be handled individually.

Vista Mar Gets More Publicity

Daly City's now-famous new Vista Mar Elementary School, located on Southgate avenue, was featured last Sunday in the national newspaper magazine supplement entitled "Suburbia Today."

A large color print of the Daly City school was used to illustrate an article entitled "I'd Rather Teach In The Suburbs," by Dr. Thomas E. Robinson, author, teacher, ex-school superintendent, and current president of State Teachers College at Glassboro, New Jersey.

The article points out that teachers and administration in suburban areas have more freedom and more community support, and that facilities are better to guarantee maximum student performance.

PAROCHIAL FUNFEST

'Big Top' Going Up In Colma For Annual Holy Angels' Festival

Planners behind Holy Angels' 1959 fall festival are shifting to high gear this week as Colma's annual parochial funfest draws near.

Within the next few days, a mammoth pavilion will rise on the church grounds on San Pedro road. Soon after, crews will start installing and decorating the various booths which will be stocked with merchandise to please the fancy of young, old and in-between. And on Thursday, September 24, at 7 p.m., Holy Angels' festival "under the big top" will see its gala opening.

The four-day event, expected to attract scores of area residents and visitors, will reach its climax Sunday, September 27, with a family-style ham dinner to be served in the church rectory.

"Months of planning went into this year's festival," said Glenn Lawson, of 616 Larchmont drive, Colma, and Tom Noonan, of 471 "C" street, Colma, co-chairmen of the event. Lawson and Noonan were named to the chairmanship last week following announcement of chairman Giulio Boeri's departure from the parish.

Aided by a well-knit staff of committee chairmen and booth directors, the pair have promised more and bigger attractions for this year's festival goers. Each booth will adopt a motif, with costumed barkers and decorations carrying out the theme. In addition, the festival's purchasing committee has gone all out in assuring a wide and excellent selection of merchandise for each booth.

As in years past, the 1959 festival "under the big top" will feature the popular ham, bacon and groceries booth, homemakers' booth, plants and shrines booth, games booth and doll booth. As new attractions, the festival committee this year has added a record bar and a teenage booth. The teensters, said Lawson and Noonan, will offer costume jewelry, sporting goods, cosmetics, and assorted items for festival-goers of all ages.

High point of the festival is a major drawing for $2500 in cash prizes. Top award is $2000, followed by a second prize of $300, and a third prize of $200. Drawing for this bonanza takes place on the final night.

The Rev. Thomas J. Farrell, pastor of Holy Angels parish, has extended an invitation for the public to drop in during the festival days.

"Our annual festival," said Father Farrell, "is open to non-parishioners and non-Catholics, and we will certainly welcome anyone who wants to join us in this, our annual merry-making and fund-raising affair."

All proceeds of the festival go towards the parish general funds.

County's Building, Construction Trades Donate Pay To 'Crusade'

Workers of the building and construction trades of San Mateo County are now engaged in an all-out effort to make the annual observance of "C-Day" on Saturday, September 19, an all-time success.

The C-Day project for the benefit of the United Crusade was first pioneered in San Mateo County. Its success here in 1956 has prompted its being copied by the construction industry in other areas for united fund drives.

According to the plan, construction workers will return to their jobs for four hours on Saturday morning, September 19, and will donate their pay to the Crusade.

Both labor and management are solidly behind the San Mateo C-Day program. This year, endorsements have been given by the Building and Construction Trades Council of San Mateo County, and four management organizations: the Associated Plumbing Contractors of San Mateo County, the Engineering and Grading Contractors Association, Peninsula General Contractors and Builders Association, Inc., and the San Mateo County chapter, National Electrical Contractors Association, Inc.

Co-chairmen for the 1959 project are Paul C. Petersen, of Whitecliff Homes, for management, and Bill Raney, business representative of the Operating Engineers local 3, of the International Union of Operating Engineers, AF of L, for labor.

Both Petersen and Raney said that C-Day has a potential of between 2500 and 5000 workers in the field this year.

To date, 100 firms and their workers in all building trades have pledged to work on C-Day. board of directors are George H. Atkinson, David D. Bohannon, Frank F. Burrows, Andrew J. Conway, Joseph Eichler, George P. Leonard, Robert Moretti, Andres F. Oddstad, Peterson, Lawrence C. Smith and Martin Wunderlich.

'One Phone Call' Law Effective On Friday

Police officers in Daly City were reminded today by Chief Roland Petrocchi of the new state law which allows arrested persons one phone call.

Effective September 18, the new legislation reads:

"All arrested persons must be allowed to make on complete phone call, at their own expense and in the presence of an officer, to an attorney, employer or relative, immediately after booking. Failure to allow the call is a misdemeanor."

Youthful (23) Dad Of Twins New Cop Here

It's quite a switch from insurance underwriter to policeman but that is the change Jim Doran, latest addition to the police force, has made.

Doran, 23, of 3863 25th street, San Francisco, says both jobs have one thing in common, "meeting people," but the work is quite different.

Married, his wife's name is Anne, and proud father of twin boys, James William and Richar Francis Doran, four months old, he started his Daly City police force duties on September 1.

A graduate of Riordan High School in San Francisco, Doran also spent one year at Golden Gate College.

Doran will receive further police training at the Concord Police Academy starting September 28. He is currently receiving "on-the-job" training.

Sixth Annual DC Flower Show 'Sweet' To 600

Featuring a water-fall arrangement on the top of the stage at the War Memorial Community Center, the Daly City Garden Show reached 600 onlookers with a favorable response Sunday.

A center piece arranged by Alfred Marquez and Joseph Kusber also drew raves from flower enthusiasts.

Mrs. Joseph Schultz, Daly City Garden Club spokesman said the children's display was one of the largest ever, "equalling the total amount of displays that were exhibited by children at the San Mateo County Fair."

Starting Second Year

Dr. Katz Hears Problems Of High Schoolers

By LOU LUCIA

Dr. Margaret Katz, 29-year-old psychologist for Jefferson Union High School district, estimated that there are probably 300 Daly City students who could use help in discussing their problems, but she only saw 60 of them last year.

"Approximately 10 to 15 per cent of the adult population could use guidance as far as emotional problems are concerned and the figure is no doubt the same for high school students," she said.

Dr. Katz has one year of experience behind her in this district. Earlier she served the San Mateo Elementary School District for two and one half years and spent one year of internship at the Bellevue Psychiatric Hospital in New York City.

The graduate of Adelphi College in Garden City, New York, where she received her Ph.D. in clinical psychology, says most of her problems concern freshmen students.

"Freshmen are learning a new social life; attending a larger school; learning to study more independently; and have to make all kinds of decisions on their own,' 'she commented.

"Other students bothered emotionally are trying to find out what kind of people they are and what their goals are.

"The major problem I am concerned with is to help students find areas in which they will be successful and feel valuable as people.

"I give very little direct advice, mostly listening to students and discussing positive values while letting them get negative values off their chest."

Dr. Katz consulted with approximately 60 students last year. Discussions last one hour a week and take between two months and a year. Of the students that are referred to community agencies about 80 per cent respond to these outside groups, she said.

"A part of the process is to see the parents and to tell them some of the kinds of problems the student has and how they can help. Parents are very interested but sometimes bewildered by their children's actions," she noted.

"I am not in this district to treat emotional disturbances but to identify them. Then work with parents and children to show them what the problems are and suggest treatment facilities when needed," she added.

Dr. Katz declared that students are just beginning to take responsibility for their actions and have trouble controlling new impulses that they have which they don't know how to handle.

She said there are two mentally retarded classes, one at each high school, with specially trained teachers who take care of 18 students each. The mentally retarded are encouraged to take part in other activities and work with fellow classmates.

The small classes, only 18 students, are of this maximum in order to insure more individual training," she said.

Posture-Exercise Classes Set Here If There's Demand

Posture and exercise classes will be offered at Westmoor High School in the gymnasium if enough people are interested. Call PLaze 5-1162, the school district office, and leave your request.

The Town Record

By ROY HURLBERT

The DC council meeting Monday night lasted 240 minutes (four hours) and was attended by almost that number of citizens.

The contested Garibaldi street rezoning, featuring an eloquent debate between two attorneys, brought out most of the throng.

Let us all hope that this alert attendance at City Hall continues.

Councilmen are there to serve. Let them answer the questions for all to hear.

It's a matter of fact:

Police Sergeant David Hansen, on duty here for 10 years, finished first on the exam for captain and first on the more recent exam for the lieutenancy.

City auditor Bob Hunter, who has held the part-time post for more than 5 years, has discontinued his affiliation with the South San Francisco north county hospital committee and his role as legal adviser- accountant for DC Scavenger Company.

Hunter apparently doesn't want folks to think these assignments represent a conflict of interest with his duty as Daly City auditor.

Thelma Stockman, high caliber clerk in the police department, has been shifted to the city finance office.

Her services, no matter where utilized, match her personality.

A very nice and efficient person.

Jefferson High PTA is off to the races with unusual vim and vigor.

Mrs. Servart Ojakian, its publicity chairman, says low membership is again a cause for concern.

'GROUPING' HELPS EACH STUDENT MAKE THE MOST OF HIS TALENTS

"Only the callow think all sixth-graders are alike," says Dr. Fred T. Wilhelms, professor of education, San Francisco State Colege, in the September NEA Journal, published by the National Education Association. "Only the mechanical teacher tries to make them so."

The elementary teacher must learn to expect a tremendous range of differences among the children in her classroom, according to Dr. Wilhelms. Then she must learn how to make the best use of those differences.

One of these ways is by separating the class into small, flexible teaching groups, like the following:

Children may be grouped by ability. Those with high ability in reading or arithmetic, for example, often have their own learning group which can proceed at a faster pace. A group for slower learners enables the teacher to give them the specialized help they need.

How are children chosen for ability groups? The teacher relies on grades, achievement test scores, aptitude or general intelligence tests, as well as her personal knowledge of the individual. In some cases, interest and high motivation on the part of the pupil are more important than test scores.

Cross-grouping is often tried, when the teacher feels it is warranted. She sometimes places a slow learner in a group of fast learners, on the theory that they will stimulate his advancement.

Children may be grouped by interests. Any child, bright or dull, is likely to produce his very best work when he is in a group which is working on a project he thoroughly enjoys. A strong drive may take a child way beyond his apparent ability . . . like boys who, though virtualy non-readers in school, can put together airplane models from the most complicated printed directions.

Children may be grouped by need. These are usually small, short-term groups of three or four youngsters who can't handle zero in multiplication or have a small difficulty in reading. After several private teaching sessions, the group dissolves as quietly as it was born.

Children may be grouped by differences. Some groups need the strength that comes from a variety of abilities. For example: an active social studies group, working o a project, is lucky if it includes some bookish members, some youngsters with artistic, musical and mechanical abilities, some with leadership qualities, etc.

Grouping is just the opposite of the classroom situation in which children are divided autocratically into three layers: poor, average, good. It is a happy facing of the fact that though Johnny is a dud at mathematics, he may be a good reader and have the ability to lead others. Not once has he been classified poor, average or best as a human being. And because his teacher sees him at work in a variety of groups, with varying degrees of success, she isn't even tempted to think of him that way.

'Get-Acquainted' Ben Franklin Meet Next Week

'Do-It-Yourself' Show To Run 11 Days In Oakland

A vast array of special new hobby and handicraft attractions designed for the tastes of Bay Area women will be featured at the seventh annual Do-It-Yourself Show, opening an 11-day run October 15 in the Oakland Exposition Building.

The show offers a wide variety of handicraft objects for the home to suit the decor of any interior. Homes styled in English, Colonial or Early American architecture, for example, can achieve added cheerfulness through the use of hand-made quilts and braided rugs that milady can fashion in her spare time.

The techniques of these two revived domestic arts will be demonstrated by experts Nellie Smith and Mary Edmunds. Novice craft enthusiasts will receive basic instructions and complete materials at the show.

Each of the new features, as well as many of the returning favorites, is designed to offer women leisure time occupations for both fun and profit. Demonstrations will present the latest money-saving advancements.

Homemakers on a budget know that a trip to Europe isn't necessary to furnish homes with "objects d'art." As demonstrators in the show will prove, artistic ceramic pieces to compliment any room's color scheme can be fashioned easily and quickly using a minimum of tools. Step-by-step instructions, including operation of potter's wheel, execution of design, baking, painting of pattern and glazing will provide spectators with the basic ceramic techniques.

The all-family exposition will include a multitude of exhibits geared to the states of weekend carpenters and painters through live-action demonstrations of the latest home-improvement products. A nightly stage revue is an added special attraction.

Nursery Association Reminds That Fall Is Best Time To Plant Lawns

You can get an argument from seedsmen here and there, but just as many others will agree that fall is the best time to plant a lawn in California. those who argue the pros of it are fast to point out that Nature herself scatters seed and plants her own grass in the fall.

There are arguments to favor both fall and spring planting, however, and most members of the California Association of Nurserymen refuse to take sides. They point out that spring or fall, you'll know success in planting a lawn if you go about it right. So if you need a new lawn now, plant it.

Fall planting is especially effective along the coast since there is little danger from early cold snaps to hold things back. And winter rains will soon take over to make watering chores less tedious. Valley lawns should go in soon, to insure a good fast start before cold nights set in to curtail new growth.

Where time is not important, the lawn seedbed can be turned over and sprinkled with a fumigant to kill weeds and weed seeds in the soil. Your C.A.N. nurseryman can supply you with a compound that not only kills the weeds, it then converts to a nitrogen fertilizer. The process takes three weeks, and seed should not be sown before it is completed.

The single most important step in preparing a lawn seedbed is to incorporate enough humus material. The gardener forgets that flower beds get an anual renewal of humus material (or should), but once you plant a lawn, it's mighty hard to dig new humus in. Work copious amounts of steer manure and peat and/or composted material into the soil. It's impossible to overdo this, so let your pocketbook be your guide.

And the most important step after planting is to spread a layer of peat and keep it moist. Don't, even for a minute, let the seedbed dry out or new seedlings will wilt and die. Use a fine spray and use it often.

Congregation B'nai Israel Sets Traditional High Holiday Rites

(Editor's Note: Following news release previews Jewish High Holiday Services and was submitted by Congregation B'nai Israel of Daly City.)

It took a handful of people with an appreciation for the spiritual life of man to bring back to the Daly City area a new enthusiasm for the immortal wisdom of Israel.

Jewish learning and Jewish ethics have once more become a living heritage to the descendants of a people who brought the word of God to mankind.

This coming Sunday morning a hundred Jewish children will fill the auditorium of Congregation B'nai Israel to become indoctrinated with the great messages of the Bible.

In the classrooms, the youngsters will get acquainted with the leaders of ancient Israel—its kings and its leaders and the hundreds of rabbis and teachers who followed them in the long march of history.

The Hebrew language and its influence on mankind will be brought to the attention of the eager disciples of American children of the Jewish faith.

The children, the faculty and a host of enthusiastic parents will follow the directives and supervision of Rabbi Solomon A. Shore, the spiritual leader of Congregation B'nai Israel and well known throughout California the past twenty years as a Hebrew scholar and educator.

The High Holiday Services will be held at Daly City War Memorial Building on Mission street. Rabbi Shore will officiate, assisted by Cantor Gerry Marcus and the Rev. Jacob Strauss.

Since Congregation B'nai Israel is a conservative congregation, patrons will enjoy the fact that some congregational singing, responsive readings and unison readings are recited in English. Musical background and choir will accompany the services.

Jewish High Holidays will commence this year on Friday, October 2, with the first evening service. Yom Kippur will start Sunday evening, October 11 and lasts all day on October

HOME INFLUENCE

Want To Know How You Parents Can Improve Your Child's Grades?

Even if Pop's science education did end when he learned how to wire a doorbell, educators agree that he still exerts a lot of influence on how well his youngsters fare in school. And Mom may not be able to help indiagramming ionic and covalent compounds, but she still has a big hand in the next generation's school progress.

The National Education Association has put in a good word for Mom and Pop and what they can do to help their offspring make the most of their school experience.

Among the obvious ways, of course, are the provision of a quiet secluded place for study, aiding with home work assignments, and offering encouragement by praising the child's accomplishments.

But probably more important are the subtler, yet more pervasive influences of the home, which condition the whole atmosphere in which the child grows up. Dinner table conversation, for instance, is not usually thought of as having any direct bearing on formal education, but it can be directed so as to stimulate the interest of the child, enriching the discoveries he is making in school, or laying the ground work for school experiences yet to be encountered.

With teenagers particularly, the educators urge that table talk should be guided into the realm of substantial ideas. Teenagers, they say, love "bull sessions" and learn much from them. Often, they point out, developments in current events have their roots in history and simply putting the day's news into perspective as it is discussed around the dinner table can add measurably to the child's knowledge of such subjects as history and geography.

An atlas, a globe, an almanac and a dictionary might be kept conveniently close to the television set, so that they can be consulted during news and documentary programs. And, of course, there are many times when parents can help the child most simply by turning off the television set. But when the reference materials are at hand they often invite checking on some controverial or doubtful point that has been raised in a television program. This may not on clarify the matter immediately at issue, but may lead to further exploration of the subject, expanding the child's knowledge beyond wha appeared in the program itsel

This procedure also helps th child to practice the scientif method in acquiring knowledg —the tracking down of ol served and provable facts, lea ing perhaps, to conclusio about other facts, which we not immediately apparent.

The innate tendency of eve child from six to 16 to be collector of something can encouraged. An orange cra or soap box in the young child room can become a treasu chest for storing collections rock specimens, shells, posta stamps, insects and the lik The collector naturally wan to become an "expert" in th field of his collection, and drawn irresistibly to acqui knowledge about it.

For the younger childre games like "Scrabble," "Thi of a Ghost," and even Domino have their educational uses, a though these are sometime e xaggerated. But the wo games tend to increase vocab laries and improve spellin and games like Dominoes a Bingo are likely to impro facility with numbers.

When the family goes on trip—perhaps a weekend ing — notebooks and penci should be made available to t youngsters so that they c make notes, or perhaps dra pictures of the things that i terest them most. Such trav diaries serve an obvious educ tional purpose, and they oft make hilarious reading for t author and members of t family in later years.

When a birthday or Chris mas come along, it might well to consult the librarian, teacher, about books whi would make suitable presen Or the choice might be science kit, an ant farm, easy-to-assemble radio set something, in any event, fro the almost infinite variety truly educational toys, gam and such that are available the shops these days.

The educators have a wo of caution for those paren auxious to have their childr get a head start in school, w are tempted to teach them su things as reading, writing, a arithmetic before they actua start school. In most cases is not a good idea. It can le to frustration of both pare and child and seriously han cap the child in his sch work.

Honeymoon in Las Vegas was the destination of Dolores M. Cabral and Daly City's Donald Raymond Bocci following their vow exchange on August 29 at Most Holy Redeemer Church.

Officiating clergymen for the double ring ceremony were the Rev. John S. Roberts, the Rev. Kenneth Cabral and the Rev. J. Thomas.

The new bride, a graduate of St. Paul's High School, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Cabral, 57 Hartford street, San Francisco.

Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Bocci, 68 West Cavour street. He is a graduate of Serra and University of Santa Clara and works for L. Bocci and Sons Monument Company here.

Mrs. R. C. Puig, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Best man duties were assumed by Eugene Baciocco.

A throng of 300 relatives and friends attended the wedding reception at Westlake Auditorium. A five-tier cake was the biggest attraction.

Big Year Of Folk Dancing Begins Monday At DC Memorial Building

The Mothers Day folk dance held last May in War Memorial Community Center welcomed 300 guests and put Daly City on the map as far as folk dancing is concerned.

The program was unusual in having spectator participation, interesting advanced dances in place of exhibitions and more than an hour "jam session" of requests. It was such a success and so much enjoyed that it will be repeated on Mothers Day of 1960.

The ball starts rolling next Monday, September 21, with the cooperation of the Daly City Recreation Department and under the direction of Elsie Maclaren.

The following program is scheduled for what is expected to be the largest folk dance group Daly City has ever had: 7:30 to 8, Fundamentals for Beginners; 8 to 8:45, Dances for Beginners; 8:45 to 9:30, Dances for Intermediates, and 9:30 to 10, Folk Dances for Fun.

You may attend any part of the evening or all of it at a cost of $2.50 per couple for the entire series of 12 iessons, ending with a Christmas party, December 14. The program will continue after the holidays, but there will not be a repeat of the material used in the Fall session. Beginners are urged to attend the 7:30 class, starting September 21, for a thorough slow motion training in folk dance basics. There is usually a surplus of girls in these classes, so any single men with the peculiar characteristics of two left feet, or one foot in a bucket — or even a dagger at their back (the latter usually turn out to be the most enthusiastic folk dancers) — will be most welcome.

'Holding Back Poor Students Is Questioned

The pupil who fails, and what to do about him, is a problem the schools still haven't solved. At least, the National Education Association has found, there is no unanimity among various school systems in the types of solutions offered.

There is, however, fairly general acceptance of research findings that denying promotion to pupils who have failed is likely to be worthless, if not actually harmful. On the evidence, pupils of low achievement usually do not improve when they repeat a subject or grade.

There has been a steady decline in the percentage of students denied promotion over the last several decades, although this is contrary to what might be expected, in view of the larger percentage of total population enrolled in school. This is probably due to increased recognition that denial of promotion seldom solves the problem.

An NEA research memorandum on the "failure" problem holds that there is no simple solution. "A school that adopts a plan of automatically retaining in grade all children who do not meet standards, or of promoting all children no matter what their achievement, without considering individual cases, is not fulfilling its responsibility to society," the memorandum says.

"In the light of present evidence, however, it seems that non-promotion should be used only as a last resort and be recognized as the serious measure that it is. . . . The child who 'fails,' if he is a normal child, almost inevitably learns to dread school and to react against it in whatever way is open to him."

HIGHWAY BILL BRINGS CALIF. $250 MILLION

The Federal-aid Highway Act of 1959 calling for a one-cent increase in the federal gasoline tax, which has passed both houses of Congress and is expected to be signed by the president, will allocate over $250 million to California's highway system for the fiscal year 1961, reports the California State Automobile Association.

The called-for apportionment of Federal-aid Highway Funds to California will total $50 million for primary, secondary and urban highways and $203 million for those California highways that are part of the Interstate System, says the CSAA.

Speedy action by President Eisenhower in signing the bill is expected to prevent the imminent breakdown in the National System of Interstate and Defense Highways Program, and will allow California to proceed with its planned freeway system as authorized by the 1959 California legislature.

The one-cent per gallon increase in the Federal gasoline and motor fuel tax will begin October 1 and continue for 22 months, expiring on June 30, 1961. In addition, the Federal Highway Act calls for the allocation to the Highway Trust Fund of one-half of the revenue from the 10 per cent federal excise tax on passenger cars, and five-eighths of the revenue from the present 8 per cent federal excise tax on auto parts and accessories for a three-year period from July 1, 1961 to June 30, 1964.

Studies designed to establish an equitable allocation of highway costs are under way and it is expected that a report on this subject will be made to Congress prior to the expiration of the temporary tax levies just adopted.

Claim Resolved

Five damage claims totaling $30,000, filed against Daly City in April last year by five Fairway drive residents because the bank below their backyards eroded away, are about to be resolved, acting City Manager Paul Hupf said today.

A meeting with Lake Merced Golf Club officials and the homeowners this week brought agreement for repairs to the bank on a shared basis.

The problem developed when a drain on the golf course got clogged with silt, water from the hillsides formed into a lake-like pond, and thus the wooden wall holding the bank below the wall slowly slipped and collapsed.

Golf course officials corrected the drainage problem and an agreement has been reached whereby the city and five homeowners will contribute $700 to the estimated $2800 corrective work.

Circus Invades SF Cow Palace For Ten Shows

The Big Circus is coming to San Francisco! Children of all ages should look forward with joy, and some may anticipate a twinge of nostalgia Wednesday, September 16 through Sunday, September 20. The Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus stages the first of ten performances in the Cow Palace at 4 p.m. this Wednesday.

With exciting wild animal acts, trained elephant performers, expert horsemanship, lofty flying stars, feats of daring on the high wires, new clown capers, plus four spectacular numbers with original musical compositions and two hundred performers, this extravaganza seeks to justify its claim to the title "The Greatest Show on Earth." Now that the circus has moved indoors, there is no dirt, dust, heat or uncomfortable temporary seats. No sawdust in your eyes, either.

Ken Venturi Chosen Favorite

Winners of both the 1958 and 1959 PGA Championship and the 1958 and 1959 U. S. Open are among early entries in the Golden Gate Open at Harding Park, Sept. 24-27.

A top-flight field has been assured with the entry of Tommy Bolt and Bill Casper, respective Open titlists in 1958 and 1959; Dow Finsterwald, the 1958 PGA champ, and Bobby Rosburg of Palo Alto, who won the 1959 PGA in a stretch drive against little Jerry Barber.

With more than 90 entries already in, the field also will include Ken Venturi and Mike Souchak, two of the leading money winners on the tour; Doug Ford, the long-hitting George Bayer, Don Fairfield, who lost to Finsterwald in a playoff for the Kansas City Open title; Fred Hawkins, Marty Furgol, Jack Fleck, who won the 1955 Open at the Olympic Club; Paul Harney, Gene Littler, Tony Lema of San Leandro, Frank Stranahan, Ernie Vossler and Don Whitt, the former Alameda star now playing out of Borrego Spring, California.

The Golden Gate Open, a feature of the Pacific Festival, also has attracted an outstanding group of foreign stars. From Canada will come Al Balding of Markham, Ont., and Jerry Magee of Toronto. Bruce Crampton of Sydney, Australia, has entered along with two South African players, Brian Wilkes and Retief Waltman, both of Johannesburg.

Souchak, who scored back to back victories in the Western Open and the Miller Open, quit the tour for a rest. But he is interrupting his vacation to compete in San Francisco.

This will be Venturi's first competitive appearance at home since he turned pro in 1956. He learned his golf on the Harding Park fairways and undoubtedly will be among the heavy favorites along with Souchak, Rosburg and Finsterwald.

HIGH SCHOOL SCENE: Police Chief Roland Petrocchi wishes his football-playing son Ron was playing in the Westmoor backfield instead of at an end position. Coach Pete Matisi contends the young Petrocchi is needed at an end spot. No matter where he plays, Ron won't get a ticket for speeding from Matisi.

COLLEGE FOCUS: With or without "Rapid" Ray Norton San Jose State promises to have one of its better football teams. Long-range prediction — The Spartans will beat the Stanford Indians for the second time in 16 contests when they meet. The prognostication is on the right wing of quarterback Emmett Lee and a prayer.

PRO TOUR: Is there a flaw in the coaching of Cleveland's head man Paul Brown? With time runing out on the clock and his team behind he continued his shuffling of guards to send in plays. It took valuable seconds after each play while the other 10 men awaited the new play. Could it have made a difference in the 17-14 squeaker? Brown usually doesn't find himself on the short end of a final score though, so who's to complain.

TEE NOTES: While Lana Green of Westlake was picked as beauty queen for the Golden Gate Championships it is her mother, Mrs. Jack Green, who is the outstanding golfer. The Green home has more golden trophies than you can shake a golf stick at.

REVOLVING AT 45 RPM'S: San Francisco Stater Jim Sochor last year completed 49 per cent of his passes. His three-year completion average coincides, 49 per cent. . . . San Mateo Coach Doug Scovil looks to Neal Dahlen, last year a standout for San Jose State's frosh team, to supply the quarterbacking. . . . South San Francisco's Ray DeJong looks to Hillsdale and Burlingame to fight it out for the Peninsula League title with Capuchino again strong. The rest of the league? Well, they'll be fighting it out for the fourth spot.

Sprint Car Races Set Saturday Night On Belmont Oval

When the American Racing Association stages the first sprint car race of the season at Belmont Speedway Saturday night, one of Menlo Park's favorite racing drivers will be honored by having the main event carrying his name.

The 30-lap top attraction will be the "Jim Scarborough Feature." Jim is recuperating from a sensational flip during a race at Vallejo in July, and while his Chrysler car may be on hand, no driver has been named as yet.

PAL Nears Goal As Tourney Nears Final Lane Games

Going into the home stretch the PAL has accounted for approximately $3500 toward the goal of $4000 as set earlier by the police department, according to Captain Roy Beecher. The bowling tourney ends Saturday.

Charley Lewkowitz with a high game of 226 and Larry DeLucca's high series paced 84 members participating for Vince and Fred's along with the Daly City Eagles.

Another large group was that of the Holy Angels Mothers Club bowling under the auspices of President Mrs. Richard Collins and sponsored by Dorothy Moyle of the A-1 Nursery. There are 32 women keglers in the group.

PICK A STRAW FOR FOURTH

Hillsdale Odds-On; Westmoor, Jefferson May Be Also-Rans?

Hillsdale of San Mateo has 48 vets returning from a 63-man championship squad, and thus the big question in Peninsula League football may well be, "Who will be second?"

Coach Frank Collin looks to Ron Peters, a swifty halfback, to gain yardage for his Knights and pace them to a second consecutive title.

Most filberts see Burlingame and Capuchino, a perennial powerhouse, battling it out for the No. 2 spot.

Coach Elmer Schaake of the Burlingame Panthers is faced by the same problem the pro New York Giants have. He has five quarterbacks and the most proficient is a halfback who he wishes would remain at a running position. Jim Bledsoe is in the spot of the Giants' Frank Gifford.

The Panthers also have line problems, although two all-leaguers, end Mike Carboni and center George Layton form a strong nucleus.

All-PL star Lynn Raymond and John Browne wil lead a host of sophomores onto the field for Capuchino's Mustangs. Line problems and inexperience will probably shove Cap down to third place in the standings.

A more ferocious battle is expected for the fourth spot with all five other members of the loop fighting it out.

Bruce Leads PAL Bowl Event Scorers

By Leon Cohn

"What a difference a day makes" is the title of a popular song. But to Rollin Bruce, new leader in the Daly City Police Athletic Bowling tournament, now being held on Swanson's Westlake lanes, it is "what a difference a week makes."

The week previous, Rollin, bowling with wife Julie and a group of friends, couldn't come close to getting a strike or a spare on lanes 19-20. So, gathering a few of his cronies from the Mission Bowl, he came out a week later and by chance was assigned again to lanes 19-20.

Bruce, as most bowlers do, moaned about the series he had rolled on these lanes. No sympathy was forthcoming from his pals. Whether this had any effect, no one knows. Rollin, who carries a 142 average, blasted the maple sticks for games of 241-193-193 for a scratch 627. Adding his handicap of 116 pins gave him 743 and the leadership by 7 pins over Ed Guttke.

The first U. S. destroyer developed only 1,600 h.p. while destroyer leaders of today like the USS Willis A. Lee develop 60,000 h.p.

Miss Green, 16, was sponsored by Joe's of Westlake and beat out 12 other girls in competition. Her prize is a trip to Hawaii or $300 cash. Jackie Broughton Wright, 19, 19 Northgate avenue, Westlake, was also honored as one of the five members of her court.
